

DMC & ASSOCIATES

Business Development & Services

Interested in starting a business abroad? Let me help you discover America

It was 400 years ago that Dutch traders struck their first trade agreement in America. This agreement, which allowed rival Native American tribes to trade in peace, can be viewed as a model for a way forward in the midst of our present economic challenges.

With The Netherlands in a state of stagnancy and the European economy dominated by larger countries, we need to turn to our historic strength and build new avenues for growth with outside sources and partners. The United States has begun to show signs of recovery and remains a great source of opportunity. The ties between our nations is unique. Despite our similarities, our differences can be surprising.

Having spent a significant amount of time in the United States, combined with my 35 years of business experience, I have made it my mission to offer my skills and experience to help businesses and entrepreneurs make their way in the “land of opportunity”, particularly in the Northeast.

To learn more about me and my associates, please visit www.nncinc.biz and click on DMC & Associates or reach me directly by emailing me at: hubertdeleeuw@nncinc.biz.

I look forward to meeting with you and wish you well in your ventures.

Sincerely, Hubert

*Et provid molorro bero officil Temperectur
acepernam est aut ullaboris accuptium qui deseque doluptaspis eliquas.*

www.determancommunications.com

*Et provid molorro bero officil Temperectur
acepernam est aut ullaboris accuptium qui
deseque doluptaspis eliquas.*

www.determancommunications.com

Not everyone can see it...

What's possible is only limited by our imagination and audacity. Dutch explorers proved that and we continue to.

Design: VU Design - www.viewwu.com

400 years ago our visionary ancestors forged their first trade agreement in America. And, thanks to their bold initiative, rival Native American tribes traded in peace, communities flourished on both sides of the Atlantic, and our legacy was forever intertwined with these United States.

When I came to the US for business 20 years ago and discovered this barely known part of history -- a history of trade and establishing relationships based on that with the first Americans indigenous peoples of the North East, especially New York -- I became driven to research and promote it. Early on, it became clear to me that this history carried important messages for both our future and cooperation between our nations to make the world a better and safer place. I followed my vision and can only say that 20 years later all seems to become reality; we are driven to each other through economics, security and the changing global environment. Thanks to our shared history, historic agreements and relationship coming from that, US and Dutch entities work in wonderful harmony. Why, who can miss the significance that the Dutch company Arcadis is now helping NY design "dikes" against rising sea level?

The United States has begun to show signs of recovery and remains a great source of opportunity. And, the ties between our nations are indeed unique. With the Netherlands stagnant and the European economy dominated by larger countries, we need to turn again to our historic strength and honor our Dutch DNA.

Pay attention to 2024. It is only 10 years away and again this is an important moment as it is 400 years ago that New Amsterdam (New York) saw its birth light and 500 years after Verrazano discovered it in 1524. To you thoughtful men and women, I say, let's capitalize on The NAF and our time between meetings to seed some imaginative and courageous plans of our own. I have a few thoughts and I am sure you do as well. Would it not be wonderful to have the Olympics in 2024 in New York, maybe as a US-Dutch supported one? ... there are so many possibilities. Consider this an invitation to dialogue.

Please do reach out to me.

Sincerely, Hubert - Your faithful interlocutor

(518) 928-3068
hubertdeleeuw@nncinc.biz
www.nncinc.biz

Tedd.Determan@ OnlineTownhalls.com

We create dialogue. Public Spirit. org

We help you speak directly and continually with your customers about the issues that matter most to them. We help Fortune 500 companies bring bold, highly refined ideas to business owners and executives. We advance your strategic goals and grow your revenue.

202-467-0550
Tedd Determan

Not everyone can see it...

What's possible is only limited by our imagination and audacity. Dutch explorers proved that and we continue to.

Design: VU Design - www.viewwu.com

400 years ago our visionary ancestors forged their first trade agreement in America. And, thanks to their bold initiative, rival Native American tribes traded in peace, communities flourished on both sides of the Atlantic, and our legacy was forever intertwined with these United States.

When I came to the US for business 20 years ago and discovered this barely known part of history -- a history of trade and establishing relationships based on that with the first Americans indigenous peoples of the North East, especially New York -- I became driven to research and promote it. Early on, it became clear to me that this history carried important messages for both our future and cooperation between our nations to make the world a better and safer place. I followed my vision and can only say that 20 years later all seems to become reality; we are driven to each other through economics, security and the changing global environment. Thanks to our shared history, historic agreements and relationship coming from that, US and Dutch entities work in wonderful harmony. Why, who can miss the significance that the Dutch company Arcadis is now helping NY design "dikes" against rising sea level?

The United States has begun to show signs of recovery and remains a great source of opportunity. And, the ties between our nations are indeed unique. With the Netherlands stagnant and the European economy dominated by larger countries, we need to turn again to our historic strength and honor our Dutch DNA.

Pay attention to 2024. It is only 10 years away and again this is an important moment as it is 400 years ago that New Amsterdam (New York) saw its birth light and 500 years after Verrazano discovered it in 1524. To you thoughtful men and women, I say, let's capitalize on The NAF and our time between meetings to seed some imaginative and courageous plans of our own. I have a few thoughts and I am sure you do as well. Would it not be wonderful to have the Olympics in 2024 in New York, maybe as a US-Dutch supported one? ... there are so many possibilities. Consider this an invitation to dialogue.

Please do reach out to me.

Sincerely, Hubert - Your faithful interlocutor

(518) 928-3068
hubertdeleeuw@nncinc.biz
www.nncinc.biz

Tedd.Determan@ OnlineTownhalls.com
We create dialogue. Public Spirit.org

We help you speak directly and continually with your customers about the issues that matter most to them. We help Fortune 500 companies bring bold, highly refined ideas to business owners and executives. We advance your strategic goals and grow your revenue.

202-467-0550
Tedd Determan